The Touring Theater's last performance on campus, "Androcles and the Lion," was presented to Wartburg audiences on May 1. The group is now performing "Androcles" and several other plays in various cities throughout the nation.

Cost Increases For 1968-69 Are Product Of General Inflation

A rise in costs at Wartburg, to go into effect in the 1968-69 year, was announced this week by Business Manager Walter Fredrick.

Tuition and room and board prices will be increased as follows: tuition, $100; room, $50; and board, $25.

The resulting costs are: tuition, $1100; room, for Grossmann, North, Wartburg and annexes, $330; room for Clinton and Centennial, $350; room for Afton Manor, $400; board, $425.

The general activity fee will remain $90.

All costs were established by the Board of Regents at its last meeting.

The Board also decided that five-day meal tickets would no longer be available, so that all students will be required to purchase a seven-day ticket in order to eat on campus.

Outlines Reasons

Fredrick outlined the reasons for the decision to raise prices. They are all due to the situation of the general economics, he said.

Current inflation is bringing about rising expenses, including personnel wages, food costs (Fredrick estimated an increase here at a rate of 5-10 percent during a calendar year) and equipment and repair expenses.

He also cited the minimum wage increase, which will go from the current $1.15 to $1.60 by an increase of $.15 annually until 1970.

"We want to maintain a quality institution which is competitive from an academic standpoint," he commented.

"Comparatively, Wartburg is still in the lower one-third, as far as total cost is concerned, of the 11 ALC colleges and of the colleges in Iowa."

Costs Are Offset

Things which will offset the cost rise include an enlarged scholarship budget, an expanded work-study program and a greater work program altogether.

"The increase in minimum wage will mean that students employed on campus will be able to earn more," Fredrick added.

He stressed the fact that Wartburg is trying to hold the line on costs, but has been faced with increasing pressures.

"We regret having to raise costs," he said, "but we don't have much choice."

Wartburg Fountain Closes Because Of Spring Pranks

Pranksters poured soap, detergent and rough fish into Wartburg's campus fountain for three consecutive nights prior to spring break, according to Business Manager Walter Fredrick.

The pool was drained each time to clear the clogged jets and fine pores in the pump. The cleaning process takes two hours.

No action was taken until it happened a fourth time after break, when beer cans were thrown in.

"We were exasperated and frustrated," said Fredrick. "We decided to close it down and tell the students why. As soon as we have assurance that the pranks will cease we will reopen the fountain."

The fountain is an old tradition on the Wartburg campus. Two years ago it was remodeled and colored lights added.

Fredrick concluded by warning any person against wading in the fountain because of the danger of electrocution.

Grant Proposal Is Discussed

A committee of seven Wartburg students met Friday with Pres. John W. Bachman to discuss a proposal which would provide grants of up to $700 per year for Iowa students in Iowa's private colleges.

Dr. Bachman urged the committee, chaired by junior Jim Beckman, to institute programs which will inform Wartburg students of the advantages of such an act.

The committee discussed letters to parents, floor meetings and newspaper articles as possible channels of information.

Dr. Bachman also urged the committee members to promote the proposal in their hometowns but cautioned that the plan is still a rough draft and is subject to change.

Dean Hellerich Releases Next Year's Faculty List

Mahlon H. Hellerich, dean of faculty, has released the names of the new faculty members for the 1968-69 school year.

Dr. Roger Bishop will replace Dr. Olson as Chairman of the Physical Education Department. He is presently the Associate Professor of Physical Education at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio.

He received his B. S. at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, in 1953; his M.C. at the Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, in 1958; and his P.E.D. at the Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., in 1961.

The replacement for Miss Lohn as head librarian next year will be Mahlon N. Peterson. He received his A. B. at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., June, 1962. In February, 1964, Peterson received his M.S. in Library Science at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.

Goggin Is Selected

William J. Goggin from Bloomington, Ill., has been selected to be an instructor in Business Administration. Goggin received his B. A. from Illinois State University, Normal, Ill., in 1967 and plans to receive his master's degree in June from the same place.

Miss Dorothy K. Bergmann has been employed to be an instructor in Physical Education, replacing Miss Cornelius. She received her B.S. in 1962 from the Iowa State University and her M.A. from the University of Northern Iowa in 1968.

The replacement for Miss Haars as an instructor in Biology will be Arlyn E. Ristau. Ristau received his B.A. from Wartburg in 1965 and will receive his M.S. in June, 1968, at the Arizona State University.

Richard A. Pederson will join the Department of Sociology as an instructor. His past education includes a B.A. from Concordia College and he is currently working for his M.A. at the University of North Dakota, hoping to receive it during the summer of 1968.

He is presently on the faculty of Concordia.

Replacing Dr. Millard Lee while he is taking a leave of absence, Dr. Donald Roiseland will be employed as the Assistant Professor of Physics at Wartburg.

Dr. Roiseland received his B. A. from St. Olaf College in 1956; his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin in 1958 and 1963 respectively. He is currently Assistant Professor of Physics at St. Olaf College.

Anthony V. Feroci has been hired as Assistant Professor of Spanish for the coming year.

He is currently enrolled in the doctoral program at Middlebury, after receiving his B.A. from Suffolk University, Boston, in 1959 and his M.A. from Middlebury College in Middlebury, Vt., in 1966. Feroci studied in Spain in the summer of 1967.

Damus Is Hired

Walter Damus will replace Dr. Schaefer as Assistant Professor of German. Walter Damus' educational experiences include a B.A. from the University of Texas in 1924, an M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1925, and additional work at the University of Berlin, University of Jena and the University of Magdeburg, Germany.

Damus is currently teaching at the American Community School in Buenos Aires.

Employed as the instructor in French for the 1968-69 school year will be Miss Patricia Kingsley, replacing Miss Linda Petersen. Miss Kingsley received her A.B. in French, June, 1966 from the Eastern Michigan University.

During 1963-64 she was in France. She is currently a part-time instructor at the University of North Carolina and hopes to receive her master's degree by August, 1968.

College Hosts Music Contest

NEWS BUREAU -- Wartburg College is hosting the State Large Group Music Contest for the Waverly area Saturday.

According to Dr. Robert E. Lee of the Music Department, 34 choruses, 14 bands and one orchestra will be entered. Represented will be 10 Class B high schools, seven Class A and two Class AA.

Judges for the event will be Max Collins of Muscatine, John DeHaan of Clinton, Allen Keller of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, John Desalme of Iowa City, Ardy McIntosh of Bettendorf and F. E. Mortboy of Davenport.

Sessions will begin at 8 a.m. and run through 4 p.m. All are open to the public.

Shades To Play For Last Dance

A dance will be held tonight from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the Student Union. The Shades will provide the music for the last dance of the year on the Wartburg campus.

Campus Face Is Lifted

Several improvements were made on campus during spring break and others will be instituted this summer, according to Walter Fredrick, college business manager.

A ceramic wainscoting has been applied around the mailboxes in the Student Union. What began as a repair job ended in an effort to enhance the beauty of the Union.

"The tile which comes in one-foot squares is more attractive than the vinyl and will be more easily cleaned and more durable in an area that gets a lot of use," Fredrick explained.

Efforts to create color centers around campus began in December in the arborist's workshop under Old Main. Shrubs have been planted in Afton Manor's courtyard, and flowerbeds will be planted on campus toward the end of May.

Plans are also being made to light trees in different parts of the campus. Lights will be buried in the ground and will shine up toward the branches.

Proposal Needs Support

Is the rising cost of attending college getting you down? If so, the Iowa Association of Private Colleges and Universities has a proposal which could greatly affect your college future.

Of the 28 four-year private colleges in Iowa, 21 of them suffered a decline in freshman enrollments in the fall of 1967 compared with the previous year. The Association thinks it is time something was done about this alarming situation.

They are currently working on the establishment of a Tuition Grant-in-Aid program. Under current plans this bill calls for a state tuition aid grant of about $700 per year for Iowa students who apply and who are attending a private college in this state.

Requirements Are Threefold

Requirements for application would be threefold: the completion of the last semester or other academic unit of the educational institution for which the student is enrolled; not more than eight semesters or its equivalent in any undergraduate educational institution, whether in Iowa or not; and the student could not be pursuing a course of study leading to a degree in theology, divinity or religious education.

Similar programs have achieved great success in the states of New York, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan. Florida, Mississippi, Missouri, Kentucky, Nebraska and Ohio are all planning or seriously discussing tuition grant plans.

Such a program would allow students much greater freedom in deciding between attending private or public institutions. The financial strain of attending a private college would be significantly reduced.

Is Sound Investment

The program would also be a sound financial investment for the state of Iowa. It would result in substantial savings for taxpayers and would ease the growing pains now being experienced by Iowa's state supported schools.

Obviously, students at private colleges stand to gain the most from this proposal. Indeed, the future of the private college in Iowa may rest on the program's success or failure.

The Trumpet urges Wartburg students, alumni and parents to take an active part in promoting this most important and beneficial program. This can be done most effectively by writing your state congressmen and asking them to support the proposal.

Our Fountain Runneth Over

In the past week Wartburg was given a first-hand opportunity to view the consequences of not heeding the detergent-maker's warning, "For top-loading automatics, 1 1/4 cup." What a stirring sight it was--the fountain foamed, the drifting leaves grew not only white, but bright, and the culprits stole clean away. Then the real cleaning job was left to the campus maintenance crew.

A chuckle of genuine mirth rippled through the crowd--the first time. It was stale the second morning. Positively moldy the third day. And on the fourth day, no one laughed. On the fourth day it was decided that the fountain would no longer run because of the insistence of certain pranksters that the fountain must effervesce.

Greets Tourists

So on one of the pleasant, warm-weather days which have opened the May Term, as crowds of prospective students toured the campus, they were greeted by a cardboard ultimatum rather than a running fountain. Sad, isn't it, that one of the prettiest sights on campus should become an ugly cement fixture on a day when visitors arrive? It must have made a few dents in that first impression.

Sad, too, that someone isn't mature enough to know that a joke loses its humor when it is overplayed. So, like punishing a naughty child, the administration must take away the toy. For the sake of somebody's fun the campus must suffer.

The pranksters will, of course, remain anonymous. No one (except the culprit himself) even knows whether or not it was a Wartburg student who indulged in this destruction. Whoever it was is probably plotting some new merriment now, at someone else's expense.

Fountain Is Silent

Meanwhile, the fountain is silent. A few students can be seen sitting beside the concrete hole, gazing into the electrical wiring. The gargoyles grimace. Couples must seek other romantic spots. Only the robins use the stone benches.

Perhaps if the fountain is dry long enough, the destructors will grow up and realize that fun isn't really fun when it comes at everyone else's expense. Or maybe they, like Peter Pan, will choose never to grow up at all.

Student Thanks Vandals For Soapsuds Wash-In

To the Editor:

May I congratulate the person (s) (male or female) who solved the laundry problem on the Wartburg campus. They have alleviated the cost entirely of washing one's dirty linen in the dorms by supplying us all with a public soapsuds wash-in at the campus fountain.

Their plan shows such simplicity I'm sure no ordinary student (s) could have contrived it.

Congratulations!

Oh, also the suggestion of tossing used utensils (beer cans) into the water for a good soak should improve campus cleanliness as well as shoulder some of the irksome tasks of the college grounds supervisor. (After all, don't we all know some trash is better than NO trash.)

For all your exploits, I can only say, thanks for getting the fountain shut off for the rest of us. --Susan M. Radig

Reader Seeks To Clarify YAF Stand Against IBM

To the Editor:

As a member of Young Americans for Freedom, I would like to clarify an issue touched upon with little wit and even less understanding in a letter to the editor from Ken Zeigler in your last issue, namely, our opposition to the current selling by IBM of computer equipment vital to the military systems of Communist countries.

The heart of research is the computer. The United States makes extensive, and expensive, use of IBM equipment.

A large part of our early warning system is composed of IBM computers and other devices.

To reveal the secrets of this system by selling similar computers to our enemies is unwise. Yet IBM is now selling at low cost its advanced 360 computers to Communist countries, at a time when this computer is in shortage in the United States.

IBM is helping the Communists close the "computer gap," and here the Russians frankly admit they are behind the U. S. by 5, even 10, years.

IBM is helping the Communists develop further the Russian space and missile programs and pose a greater military threat to American fighting men in Vietnam.

Lenin said, "When the capitalist world starts to trade with us--on that day they will begin to finance their own destruction." YAF is asking you to help finance your own survival by supporting our nation-wide campaign against East-West trade.

Four Travel To Bahamas During Post-Exam Vacation

By KAREN LUDVIGSON

"The plane trip was beautiful--we were able to see much of the United States, flying at about two thousand feet," stated senior John Stueber, one of four Wartburg students who took advantage of spring break and flew to the Bahamas for a few days.

Juniors Kim Kyllo, Steve Goldammer and Tom Schleicher made up the rest of the foursome which headed South for the break.

According to Steve, who piloted the small, four - passenger plane, the group left Waterloo on Friday, April 19, but because of poor weather they were forced to land in Eau Claire, Wis., where they remained for about two days.

Once again on their way, the fellows stopped next in Gainesville, Fla. They stayed one night in Florida before heading for Freeport, Grand Bahama Island. Although Florida didn't quite meet their expectations, all four seemed quite impressed with West Palm Beach.

Limit Time In Sun

Although one of their objectives while in the Bahamas was to get a good sun tan, they found it wise to spend a limited amount of time in the sun because of the 90 to 95 degree temperatures.

Steve added that the sand on the beach was especially fine and white, unlike that in most of the United States.

In order to do a lot of sightseeing, the group rented a small British car, which they drove approximately 175 miles around the island.

"It was quite an experience trying to adjust to driving on the left side of the road," said John, who was delegated the duty of driver.

John added that there is very little industry found on the island. The island, which is mostly Negro, caters to tourists, and the prices are extremely high.

Bazaar Is 'Fabulous'

In regard to their sightseeing, Steve commented, "The International Bazaar was fabulous!"

He explained that the International Bazaar is a miniature world's fair, which displays exhibits from nearly every nation.

When asked what particular part of the trip he found especially interesting, Tom said that he thought "El Casino" was a unique experience. He also mentioned that "getting temporarily lost while flying over the Atlantic on the way back made me a little nervous."

Kim summed up the trip by saying, "Except for the fact that I never want to eat another 'burger king', the whole trip was great! It was an experience I would never pass up."

John and Amando Yivisoker will convert the Moy 9 Venite into o folk-rock idiom. The service, which will be held in the Buhr Lounge at 11 a.m., will be the last Venite of this school yeor.

Venite Will Swing To Folk-Rock Beat

A service of worship in the folk-rock idiom will be presented by John and Amanada Yivisaker Thursday, May 9, at 11 a.m. in Buhr Lounge.

Yivisaker is the composer of "The Lord of the Dance" and "Who Cares for the City," which was used in the student congregation last February. His latest album is "Cool Livin'."

In 1957 the Yivisakers performed and recorded their "Mass for the Secular City" at Carnegie Hall. It is the story of a country boy who goes to the city and discovers a new kind of freedom. The music follows the outline of the traditional liturgy.

According to Pastor Herman Diers, Wartburg chaplain, this will be the only Venite service during the May term.

The Yivisakers will also present a folk-rock program at 8 p.m. in Buhr Lounge. This program will be sponsored by Social Activities.

Band Tour 'Is A Success' From Wykoff To Waverly

"The band tour was a success in every way. The audiences were receptive, the music program was well played and the kids acted in a mature, adult way and we did not have any bus trouble. What else could you ask for?" asked Wartburg Band Director Dr. Robert E. Lee.

The tour began with a concert at Wykoff, Minn., on April 20 and concluded with the home concert at Waverly on April 28. In between, the band played before seven receptive audiences, including Whitehall, Mich., and St. Paul, Minn.

"Having the trip this late in the year was not a factor at all. The audiences were the same as when we used to go a month earlier. Also, on the program we premiered two numbers, one by Dr. Fritschel and another by former music professor Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, and these numbers were very well accepted," Lee added.

A total of 57 band members made the tour. Senior Alan Hanson was tour manager for the group.

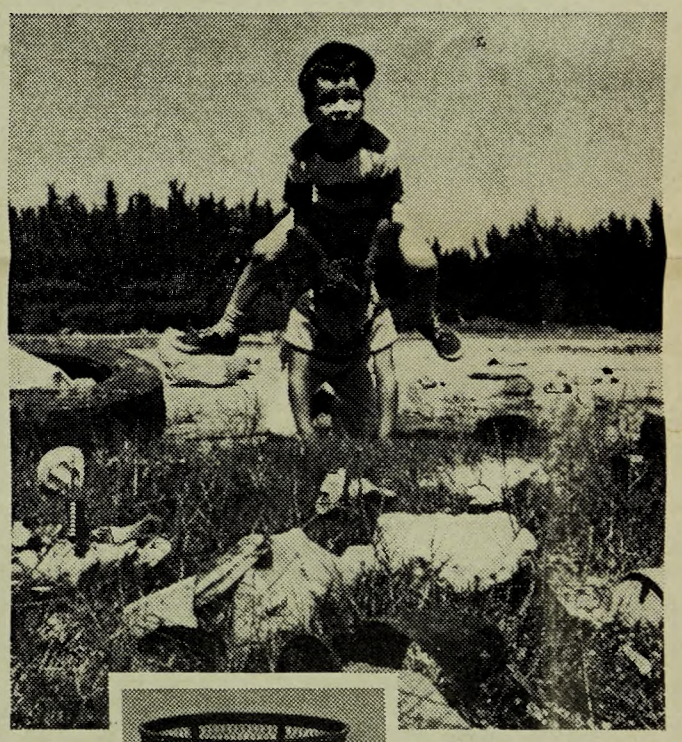
Dr. Lee commented, "With the good luck we have had this year, there is no eason why we should not continue the tradition of the tour. It was well worthwhile and, as I said before, a success in every way."

Philip Dwinger Will Lecture

Dr. Phillip Dwinger, professor of mathematics at the University of Illinois at Chicago, will lecture twice next week in the Becker Hall of Science Auditorium.

His topic Tuesday will be "Limits and Continuity" and on Wednesday, "Order in Mathematics."

Dr. Dwinger is appearing as part of the Visiting Lectureship Program administered by the Mathematical Association of America.



The Wortburg Bond relaxes os it trovels during o ten-doy tour which took them to Minnesoto and Michigon as well as Iowo. The pert young sophomore in the bock is Sue Henricksen.

Baseball Squad Visits Dubuque; Must Win Remainder Of Games

By DAVE WESTPHAL

Coach Earnest Oppermann sends his baseball squad into action today with a twin-bill at the University of Dubuque, in hopes that the Knights will blast out of a wicked batting slump.

Wartburg, which is 8-4 overall, and 2-2 in Iowa Conference play, is faced with the prospect of having to sweep its remaining 4 doubleheaders in order to be in contention for the IIAC crown.

After today's game the Knights travel to Central for two on Tuesday, return home for a twin bill against Upper Iowa next Saturday, and finish out the season at Buena Vista with a doubleheader on Wednesday, May 15.

Rowell Throws No-Hitter

Wartburg's first league loss came at the hands of Luther, as the Norse's Alex Rowell tossed a no-hit game to blank the Knights. John Hearn came back to win the nightcap for Wartburg.

The Knights' second defeat was dealt by William Penn at Oskaloosa, as the Statesmen's Bob Pippen hurled a 2-hitter, and won, 5-3. Tom Cain was the winner in the first game, 6-3.

Team Batting Is .130

Wartburg's IIAC batting average to date is .130, and to make matters worse, the first four men in the Knights' batting order, Alcock, Manchester, Fairchild and Hearn, have combined for a total of one hit through the first four league games.

To try to remedy the situation, Oppermann put his squad through four days of tough drills, concentrating mainly on hitting practice.

He also juggled the first team line-up in practice scrimmages, trying out Goetzinger at first, moving Bowman to second, giving Koch a shot at shortstop and trying Thorson in centerfield.

But after practice Thursday night it appeared that Oppermann may go with the same starting line-up: Bowman at first; Fairchild at second, Alcock at short, Hearn at third, Johnson at left, Manchester in center, Fox in right, Erickson behind the plate and Cain on the mound.

Praises Pitching

While bringing out the Knights' obvious lack of punch at the plate, Oppermann was quick to praise his squad in two other areas--pitching and defense.

"We have six really fine chuckers who have at least kept our club in contention during our slump, but we just can't expect them to carry the entire load for us," said Oppermann.

"If we were fortunate enough to get into the post-season tournament, we would be in a very good position as far as pitching is concerned," he added.

Oppermann noted that the Knights are counting on three men in particular to come through at the plate: Alcock, who last year led the nation's small colleges in triples; Fairchild, who hit well at the beginning of the season but is now in a slump; and Hearn, Wartburg's long-ball hitter.

Picks Upper Iowa

Oppermann pointed to Upper Iowa, last year's IIAC winner, as the team holding down the driver's seat in the league race.

The Peacocks, along with Luther, are 3-1, but got a break when their twin-bill with the Norse was rained out. Upper Iowa plays two against Buena Vista next Tuesday, and Oppermann says that even if they drop one to the Beavers, they should win the remainder of their games.

"For that reason," said Oppermann, "we have to win the remainder of our games to even think in terms of a top finish."

Problems Are Reversed

Looking back to pre-season predictions made by Oppermann, one may note that Wartburg's current problems and the problems faced at the beginning of the season have been reversed.

"Theoretically, we should be having problems with our pitching and defense; instead, we are getting excellent throwing and glove-play, and poor hitting from what we thought would be a strong team at the plate," said Oppermann.

Oppermann plans to continue with his two top pitchers, Tom Cain and John Hearn, throughout the remainder of the season.

Branch -- Out On A Limb

Urges Baseball Rule Change

By JIM KEIFER

Keifer

At the present moment Luther and Upper Iowa are tied for the lead in the Iowa Conference baseball race. They both have 3-1 records. They were supposed to play each other last week, but were rained out. This brings up a point about the Iowa Conference that I disagree with. They go by the percentage method in picking the winner of the conference. The team with the best percentage wins the conference. The rule says that a team must play half of its conference games. The bad thing about this is that if Luther and Upper Iowa end up as the first and second place teams, it is possible that if they would have played an even split, they might reverse positions. So it is possible that the best team doesn't win the conference. I do not think this is fair to the players and the school.

One solution to this problem would be to do what the Big Ten and the state schools of Minnesota has adopted. If the games are rained out on Saturday the teams stay and play on Sunday. The only thing wrong with this is that the religious affiliated schools in the Iowa Conference probably wouldn't go along with this.

Another thing they could do is play the games during the week. But the Iowa Conference schools say that this interferes with the studies of the students and don't want to do this. I don't think that playing on a couple of week days would hurt anyone's studies too much. They have to play on two week days as it is and I think at least the first place team should play the second place team. Maybe one of these years the Iowa Conference will get up to date.

Bad Weather Halts Trackmen's Meets; Take Second To Mankato In Quadrangular

By TOM DAHLEN

Bad weather conditions cancelled two of the track team's meets during spring break. Rain halted the April 23rd meet with Bethel at St. Paul, and the meet at St. Olaf in Northfield the next day was halted because of the poor condition of the track.

The Dickinson Relays, however, were run at Cedar Falls on April 20. No points were awarded, but places were taken. Jon Thieman won the only open running event, the mile. Two of the relay teams placed.

The high hurdle shuttle team of Mike Anderson, Dean Mohning, Randy Peters and Loren Betchum placed third; and the mile relay team of Daryl Suntken, Ed Long, Rod Holt and Thieman finished fifth. Also in that meet Paul Danielson finished fourth in the shot.

Mile Relay Team Shines

An exceptional performance was turned in by the mile relay team at the Drake Relays. Suntken, Long, Holt and Thieman set a school record of 3:19.5 and finished third in the Iowa College division. The time also represented the fourth fastest such time in the history of the Relays.

Last Tuesday a number of top individual performances were recorded at the Norseman Relays at Decorah. Here, too, only places were awarded. Brian Koster threw his best in the javelin and finished fourth with a 180 foot effort. Jim Sauerbrei also turned in his finest effort in the discus and finished second with a throw of 132 feet.

Bob Ritson, injured at the Norseman Relays, ironically jumped his best ever in the pole-vault with an effort of 13 feet, but still failed to place.

Thieman Wins Mile

Danielson finished second in the shot and Dean Mohning finished fourth in the high jump with a 6 foot effort. Thieman again won the mile, this time in 4:26, establishing a Norseman Record.

The shuttle hurdle team of Randy Peters, Mohr, Betchum and Les Ashby finished fifth and the distance medley relay team of Suntken, Thieman, Terry Sexton and Doug Beck also finished fifth.

The team's effort wasn't a true indication of its potential because not all its members participated in the meet. Coach Olson saw an improvement in the field events however.

Wednesday's quadrangular meet saw Mankato winning with 102 1/2 points, being followed by Wartburg with 65, Lea College with 10 1/2 and Upper Iowa with 7.

Wartburg's standouts were again Thieman, Suntken, Holt and Beck. Thieman won the mile in 4:25.2, Holt took the 440 in 50.3, Beck barely won the two mile in 9:48.5 and Suntken took second in the 100.

Koster won the javelin with a 178 foot effort; Danielson took the shot with a 47 foot effort; and the mile relay team of Suntken, Long, Thieman and Holt won in 3:26.4. Thieman also won the 880, in 1:59.7.

Olson Sees Improvement

Dr. Olson noticed a substantial improvement in the performances of Koster, Sauerbrei and Bechtum, and a continued excellent in Thieman, Holt, Suntken and Beck. He maintained also that the team as a whole just isn't meeting the challenge, which is accomplished only by a marked improvement.

There are three remaining meets for May. Yesterday and today the Viking Olympics were held at Rock Island, Ill. The seventh team travels to the University of Wisconsin at Platteville, and to Pella for the conference meet on the 10th and 11th.

The last meet is a dual with Luther on the 17th at Decorah.

Junior Rich Gaard, letterman on this year's golf team, follows through in perfect form after teeing off at the Waverly Municipal Golf Course.

Suntken Leads Knight Sprinters Into Conference Meet Next Week

By LES GYLLSTROM

As this year's track squad heads into the home stretch and begins to prepare for the conference meet, the Knights once again will be relying on their running events, especially in the long distance.

However, there is one man who Coach Dave Olson feels has made remarkable improvement in the short distances.

Junior Daryl Suntken has been a consistent winner in the 100, and the 220 yard dashes. Suntken is also the lead man in what is considered the most exciting event today, the mile relay.

Suntken transferred here from Waldorf College his sophomore year mainly because Waldorf did not have a track team. He has always run short distances in high school, and he enjoys running the relays more than anything else.

"I guess I like the relays because of the team effort involved, and because of the excitement it generates," commented Suntken. According to Olson the lead man in the mile relay must get them into contention, and must be a good sprinter. Suntken fits the bill.

Began In January

Preparation for track season started in January for Daryl, and this year he concentrated more on his speed work and worked more on the quarter mile.

Junior Daryl Suntken puts his head down and drives to the finish line in the home stretch of the 220-yard dash.

Suntken has made a steady improvement from last year and has brought down his time in the 100 to 10.3, and ran the best quarter of his career in the Drake relays when he handed the banton in at 49.5.

The relay team was then able to go on and break the school record with a time of 3:19.5.

Suntken believes, like most runners, that most of it is mental, and that a lot depends on preparing yourself mentally for a meet.

"You just have to keep saying that you have to do your best, and just hope that you do," said Suntken.

Temperamental About Weather

Daryl is sort of a temperamental runner when it comes to the weather because he does not like to run when it is hot or when it is cold.

"When it's cold, you can't really get loose, and when it's hot, the sun just drains a person," Suntken explains.

However, Suntken is doing all right, even though he is in a state where you can never be sure about the weather.

Daryl feels that the squad should do better this year in the conference meet, but still feels that Luther has the edge.

"We saw Luther in the Viking Relays, and they look tough, and should be given the nod to repeat as conference champs," commented Suntken.

Because of the number of men in the conference that can run the 100 in 10 flat, Olson is considering putting Suntken in the 440.

"I think Daryl would have a much better chance there, and I'm sure he can do a good job," explained Olson.

Netmen Even Record At 3-3

Wartburg's netmen initiated their new home courts by winning a doubleheader against Upper Iowa College and Simpson by identical 5-4 scores last Wednesday, giving the Knights a 3-3 record for the season.

After dropping the top three singles matches to Simpson, the Knights came back to win the next three. In doubles play, the Knights overpowered the Redmen in the last two matches to gain their margin of victory.

Matches Are Similar

In the Upper Iowa match, the story was much the same, as the Knights won the first, fifth and sixth singles matches, and the second and third doubles matches.

Against Simpson, Mike Kraus lost to Wise 12-6 and Powell defeated Dick Winchell by the same score. In one of the closest matches of the day Keller beat Paul Fredrick 12-9.

Todd Gordon won Wartburg's first singles match by a score of 12-8 over Brackney.

Fred Henkelmann beat Hunter 12-4, and Rog Gutmann won a 12-8 decision over Howard. In the doubles matches Wartburg's team of Kraus and Gordon was defeated 12-5 by Wise and Powell.

However, Winchell and Fredrick beat Keller and Brackney, 2-3, and Henkelmann and Gutmann came through with a 12-6 win to give Wartburg a 5-4 victory.

Kraus Wins No. 1 Match

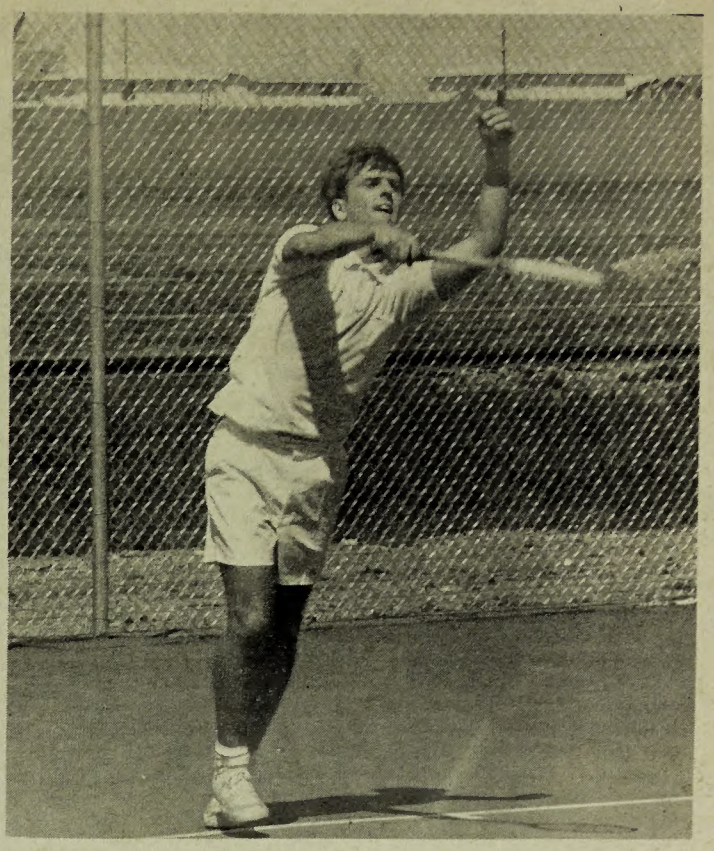
Kraus won the first singles match against Upper Iowa as he beat Cronbaugh in three sets, 5-7, 6-0, and 6-1. However, the Knights dropped three straight matches before gaining another victory.

Kust beat Winchell 6-1 and 6-3, Boyar beat Fredrick 6-3 and 6-1 and Hallquist defeated Gordon 6-8, 7-5 and 6-3.

Henkelmann and Gutmann put Wartburg back into the meet. Henkelmann defeated Thomas 6-1 and 6-0, and Gutmann beat Hulko 6-1 and 6-0.

In the doubles, Kraus and Gordon lost to Cronbaugh 6-4, 4-6 and 4-6. Winchell and Fredrick beat Boyar and Hallquist 6-1, 3-6 and 6-1. Henkelmann and Gutmann again assured Wartburg of victory as they beat Thomas and Hulko 6-1 and 6-0.

In previous meets, the Knights lost to William Penn 5-4, lost to Central 9-0, beat Simpson 6-3 and lost to the University of Northern Iowa 9-0.



Freshman Todd Gordon blasts a serve against his opponent in a match against Upper Iowa last Wednesday. Gordon is No. 4 man on the tennis team.

(IIAC NEWS SERVICE)

A freshman shortstop from Buena Vista has taken over the batting lead in the Iowa Conference.

Patrick McMullen is swatting .667 in four games while teammate Larry Biittner, who led the league last year, is third with .583.

Don Tresmer of Luther is second with an even .600 and is the best of four Norsemen who are listed among the top nine hitters.

Luther's Alex Rowell, who already has a no-hitter to his credit, Tim Jotzke of Simpson and Larry Reynen of Central are all tied for the pitching leadership with ERA's of 0.00.

Upper Iowa and Luther are currently deadlocked for first in the team standings with records of 3-1. The Norse gained the tie by sweeping a pair from the University of Dubuque last week, 7-1 and 3-0.

Luther will be at Simpson and Central at Upper Iowa Saturday and then on May 7 Luther faces tough Buena Vista at Storm Lake and UIC hosts vastly improved William Penn.

In other games, BV is at Penn and Wartburg at Dubuque on Saturday, and Wartburg is at Central and Dubuque at Simpson on May 7.

Choir Visits Eleven Cities; Ten-Day Tour Ends Here

By JEANY KLING

Know what a choir is? Commonly defined, it is a group of singers used in a church service. Know what the Wartburg College Choir is? The members say, "We are a church service all alone. We give our audience a message through song, and ask them to believe it."

The making and the message of the Wartburg College Choir is an experiment in living. The variables, numbering 53, are the members of the choir; the controlling factor is Dr. Edwin Liemohn, head of the music department and choir director.

The experiment culminated in a 10-day tour. Leaving on April 19, the choir toured five states and performed in 11 different cities. Their final performance was given in Waverly on April 29. All of the tour performances were given in churches. The choir members boarded with members of the local congregations.

Begin With Tryouts

The formation of the choir began with tryouts in the first week of the Fall Term this year with try-outs ending by the third week. Then began 28 weeks of rehearsal, five hours a week.

"Everything we did had meaning--every note had a certain meaning," said one choir member.

The choir learned 12 separate works, some of which were in Latin, German and Norwegian. Two of their works were arranged by Dr. Liemohn--"So Nimm Den Meine Haende" and "Behold a Host." Works of Palestrina, Lasso and Bach were among the twelve memorized by the choir.

The making of a choir is more than just learning the music. It is learning to act as one body, with one message and with the spirit to make that message known.

According to junior Martin Younkin, it is "to sing for the honor and glory of the one we serve--God. We are not performers, but messengers."

Spirit Is For Doc

During the discussion on spirit freshman Mark Pries summed up with, "We did it for Doc. I've never before respected a man like I do Doc."

In connection with the forming of the choir, Dr. Liemohn commended the choir as one of the best he has had, and also the tour as "one of the most enjoyable tours." According to Dr. Liemohn the tour cost approximately $2500, which cost was covered by the concert receipts and membership fees.

Of the tour itself, sophomore Kris Knappe concluded, "We had some problems, but mostly it was good times."

The tour included stops in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Iowa with side trips to the Brookfield Zoo and the Hoover Memorial Library.

Choir Has Message

Beyond the formation of the Choir is its message. The choir and Dr. Liemohn claim the words of "God's Son Has Made Me Free" by Edvard Grieg as the essence of their message:

God's Son has made me free
  from Satan's tyranny,
From fear of death and bonds
  of sin,
From all that plagues my soul within.
The Holy One divine became a friend of mine,
From heaven high, from starry
  sky,
He came to live, to die.

O boundless love, He came, He died,
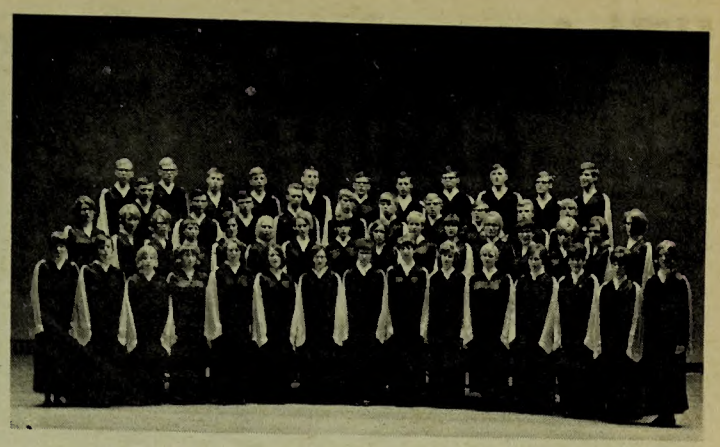
He rose forever glorified!
He came to give, to die
That I might live with Him eternally.
  God's Son has made me Free!



The Wartburg Choir spent the spring break performing in five states. It was the final tour for retiring music head Dr. Edwin Liemohn.

Two Sophs Will Participate In Israeli 'Dig' Project

NEWS BUREAU--Two Wartburg College sophomores will participate in an archeological "dig" this summer in Isreal.

David Kalke and Russell Creydt have been accepted into the summer program of the Hebrew Union College archeological project at Gezer, an ancient site located midway between Jerusalem and the Mediterranean coast.

Are Now In Germany

The two students are currently in Germany, participating in Wartburg's May Term Study Abroad program at Passau. They will leave from there for Isreal in early summer.

The project runs from the end of June through the month of July.

During the first week, the 90 students involved will be exposed to archeological history and methods. The remaining time is to be spent at the camp site, living in tents and doing the actual work of excavation.

Time off is permitted for travel through Palestine and surrounding areas on weekends.

Was Partially Excavated

Gezer was partially excavated in the 1902-09 and again in 1934. These attempts were incomplete and utilized outdated methods of identifying the various strata of artifacts, according to Dr. Marshall D. Johnson of Wartburg's religion department.

It is known that Gezer was occupied as early as 4000 B.C. and throughout the Biblical period when its location was of strategic importance for the defense of Palestine.

Purpose of this summer's work is to possibly shed light on Canaanite customs as well as on the life of Old Testament Hebrews.

Heading the "dig" will be G. E. Wright of Harvard University.

May 9 To See Two Recitals

Two recitals are scheduled for Thursday, May 9. The first, a sophomore recital, will present pianists Catherine Hurmence and Kristi Becker. Seniors Gayla Shepherd, soprano, and Ronald Bartelt, tenor, will perform at the second.

The sophomore recital will be given at 7 p.m. in the choral rehearsal room of the Fine Arts Center. At 8 p.m. the vocalists will perform in the Becker Hall of Science. Senior Karon Kurchinski will accompany Miss Shepherd. Junior Dianne Brehmer will accompany Bartelt.

"Things Went Smoothly" For Retiring Fortress Editor

By DAVE EVANS

"I thought it was enjoyable. It was harder than I thought it would be, but once we got going, things went smoothly," commented Susan Radig on her job as editor of the Fortress the past year.

Not only was Miss Radig editor of the yearbook, but she was also art editor of the Castle, campus literary magazine. She collected and judged art work, helped form the layout and corrected proofs.

Miss Radig has had plenty of experience working with yearbooks. In her junior year in high school she was layout editor, and her senior year she was co-editor of the yearbook.

She worked on the Fortress her sophomore year, in which she mainly typed copy, and her junior year she served as associate editor.

Becomes Editor

To become editor, she had to fill out an application to go before the publications committee to prove that she met requirements.

Among her duties as editor were planning deadlines, choosing the theme of the book, arranging for picture taking, staying in contact with the yearbook company and cropping pictures.

When asked about the most difficult part of the job, she said, "Turning material in on the deadlines and getting ideas for pictures were the hardest parts of the job."

She added that the small size of this year's staff made things more difficult.

Receives Grant

Miss Radig was recently granted an assistantship toward her M. A. degree in English at Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches, Tex. She will study 20th Century English and American literature. Though her assistantship will not go into effect until fall, she will begin studying in June.

Commenting on the reason she would rather teach in college, Miss Radig explained, "I'd rather teach in college because there is not a discipline problem, and secondly, I'd like to go in depth into the subject, not just scratch the surface."

Senior Susan Radig, retiring yearbook editor, has announced that the Fortress will be available on May 15 or 16. Students will be able to pick them up at the Publications House upon presentation of their ID cards.

Class To Tour Cultural Midwest

NEWS BUREAU--The cultural scene of the upper Midwest will be the subject of study for 12 Wartburg College students during the new May Term.

The students and their instructor, Dr. James Fritschel of the Music Department, will visit and observe people and events in the areas of jewelry, music, pottery, art, graphic arts, architecture and theatre.

The course is called "Tour of the Arts" and involves trips to Iowa City, Minneapolis, Northfield, Minn., Jordan, Minn., St. Paul, Cedar Falls and Plainfield.

It not only is designed to acqualnt students with the arts, but it also will attempt to encourage active creation.

In order to complete the course, the students must become amateur composers and film makers.

Each student is required to put together a 3-4-minute composition for tape recorder which will be presented during the final week of class, and at the same time groups of students will produce three 3-4-minute movies, to be synchronized with the tape recorder compositions.

Four Persons Attend Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. Edward S. Allen and Dr. and Mrs. David C. Hampton represented Wartburg College at the regional conference of Danforth Associates, April 26-28. The central theme of the conference, held in St. Paul, was "The Student's Search for Values."

The representatives will report on the conference Wednesday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Conference Room. According to Allen, everyone who is interested is cordially invited.

Knighties Place In Poem Contests

Four Wartburg freshmen have been cited in poetry contests in Iowa recently.

Patricia Finch was awarded first place in the Iowa Poetry Day Association Contest. Third place in the same contest went to Linda Eddy. Original poems submitted to the contest by both will be printed in an annual brochure of the association.

Honorable mention in the Iowa Poetry Association contest went to Judith Volle and Rondalyn Wente. Their poems will be printed in the annual publication "Lyrical Iowa."

Krinkle's Korners

Krinkle Has Trouble

By DEAN KRUCKEBERG

I have had difficulty writing this first column. Getting married and just returning from a delayed honeymoon has caught me with my journalistic pants down. My journalistic pants are the paisley capri pants I wear on Mondays and Wednesdays.

As I was observing pregnant robins hopping around in Cedar Falls Wednesday, I began to reminisce about the nasty things certain people have done to me this year.

Kruckeberg

There is Jim Baseler, my ex-roommate, for instance. Jim is the one who spread the nasty rumor that I had to get married. It is unfortunate that this rumor ever got out. But now that the damage is done, I feel obligated to confess the truth of this nasty hearsay. I have borrowed so much money from my wife this past year that the only way I could get out of debt was to marry her.

I knew Ray Narducy would be disappointed if I did not mention his name in my first column. Hi, Ray! Consider yourself mentioned.

I have always respected Ray for his gradepoint and his promise that he would get me into Alpha Chi. I have even considered copying his style.

I realize, of course, that such an attempt would involve the use of much white space.

Using Deuce's complex style, all I could come up with was:

"I never thought it would last this long. Maybe if I had a talk with Keifer.

"XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN XN

"Kim Kyllo's tennis shoes (This is this week's "in" joke. I hope everyone who considers himself "in" appreciates this joke. It is always nice to laugh about something you read in the paper when nobody else understands it. This joke is so in that even I don't understand it. And I made it up.)

I was going to list a page of names out of the student directory, but I don't own one.

Keep in touch.

I really hate to cut Ray down. He and Kim Kyllo and Jim Baseler gave my wife and me a nice cordless electric clock for a wedding present.

Unfortunately, when I saw Ray's name on the package and heard it ticking, I soaked it in the sink.

* * * * *

I got a letter this week from Steve Fredrick, now Cpl. Steve Fredrick of Fort Benning, Ga. Steve used to attend Wartburg, and I know that most of the upperclassmen remember him. He has been reading the Trumpet this year and after a salutation of "Dear Kloddenberg," he gave me his views on the Vietnam War. The letter was personal and was not meant to be printed in the Trumpet. I would like to paraphrase the points he made, however. I hope I will not get Steve in trouble with the military by doing so, but the way I remember Steve, he wasn't afraid to say what he believed.

Steve wants to give his support to the PAX! group on campus and gives his reasons for doing so.

First of all, he says, we all know that nobody ever wins a war and that this is especially applicable to the situation in Vietnam. Steve says that sometimes he gets the feeling that the military action is going on just so our armed forces can stay in shape.

He said that this thought never occurred to him as a civilian, but being in the army and hearing many different officers and leaders speak to a purely military audience, he has come to the conclusion that this conflict is "an off season scrimmage for the number one team in the world."

Steve's second point is that men younger than himself who don't have the right to vote or drink beer legally are expected to fight and die for the very same rights which they are denied. Many of Steve's friends have lost their lives and limbs in Vietnam. Steve wants to know who makes the rules "for this game."

He concludes this point by asking "What kind of immoral people won't let a man vote or take a drink, but will give him the chance for a bullet between the eyes?"

* * * * *

Steve's last point is that there are very few things, if any, in this world equal in value to the life of just one man. Steve will be faced with this problem in 10 weeks. Steve is going to Vietnam and will have a gun in his hands. He has been asking himself how he ever got into such a situation. The whole world is in an uproar, according to Steve, and everywhere you turn there is violence and bloodshed. He is reminded of Barry Mcquire's record, "The Eve of Destruction."

What can we do about this?

Steve says that the answer lies with each individual. He must look into himself and examine his attitudes. After all, he says, that's what our nation is, a conglomeration of personal ideas, opinions and beliefs.

Steve apologized for his handwriting. He said he didn't have much time to write the letter as he is too busy learning to kill.

He asked me to tell Cotta and North Hall that he'll see them all when Uncle Sam gets them.

To me it seems a terrible waste and a murderous atrocity that men like Steve are sacrificed on the battlegrounds of Vietnam.

Poet's Pad

I Must Go On Living

Look to the West
The sun is a-sinking
Over the rolling hills
Dipped in Blood!
Darkness rules over the Light
Look to the East
The rays are a-spreading
Slowly the daisies bloom anew
And then again I know
I MUST GO ON "LIVING" . . . .
For maybe tomorrow
I shall understand
Maybe tomorrow
I'll know what love means
Maybe tomorrow I'll know why
Man must keep on fighting.
Maybe tomorrow I'll know why
A child must shed unending tears
Maybe tomorrow, I'll know why
Starvation is all she'll know
Maybe tomorrow I'll know why
Freedom does not exist
Maybe tomorrow I'll know why
I'm damned
Maybe tomorrow I'll know
The meaning of Truth
Maybe tomorrow I shall understand
Why we must destruct and never create
Maybe tomorrow
The scales of Justice will break
Maybe tomorrow
The sun will rise again
Maybe tomorrow I'll know why.
